Communications preferences

Ask to increase eNotice use – it takes care of GDPR requirements

The screenshot shows the IEEE user interface for 'Communication Preferences and Policies'. The page title is 'Communication Preferences and Policies' with a help icon. Below the title, it says 'Please select the types of communications you wish to receive from IEEE.' There are two main sections: 'Accepted Policies & Terms' and 'Communication Preferences'. The 'Accepted Policies & Terms' section has a 'Collapse all | Check all | Uncheck all' header and lists several policies with their acceptance dates and checkboxes. The 'Communication Preferences' section also has a 'Collapse all | Check all | Uncheck all' header and includes 'Membership Benefits' and 'Community Engagement' sections. In the 'Membership Benefits' section, 'Local IEEE Communications' and 'Member-Related Communications' are checked. A tooltip is visible over the 'Local IEEE Communications' checkbox, stating: 'If checked, you agree to receive communications directly from your local IEEE leaders (Section, Chapters, Student Branches, Groups, etc. to which you belong) about IEEE organizational unit activities.' On the left sidebar, under 'Settings', 'Communication Preferences and Policies' is highlighted with a red '2'. Red arrows labeled '3' and '4' point to the 'Local IEEE Communications' and 'Member-Related Communications' checkboxes respectively.

Become a Senior Member

Membership Requirements

Oregon section will help with the application process as well as getting references.

For information on becoming a senior member or to start an application, please contact:

Diwakar Agarwal: diwakar@ieee.org

Paulo Vasconcelos: paulo.vasconcelos@ieee.org

To start an application:

1. Update your work and education on IEEE site. Please ensure to fill out the start date, end date, city, university, and degree.
 1. Goto <http://www.ieee.org>
 2. Sign in at the top of the page
 3. Click on your name at the top -> Select "My Account"
 4. Select "Professional and Education Information" on the left under "Manage your profile"
 5. Update the information
2. Contact Diwakar@ieee.org to start the application. Please provide:
 1. CV - Please provide (as applicable) education, work experience, publications, patents, involvement with IEEE
 2. Provide text or word document highlighting of significant performance in any 5 years. Specify the time period, performance in that period and its impact. Mention publications and patents. It is ok if you do not have publications or patents.
3. Oregon section will initiate your application and get references. You may also seek references from IEEE Senior members who are familiar with your work.
